New Supreme Court Justices are sworn in

By Rebecka Lyman Reporter/Ad Sales

Beaming with pride, Gov. Janice Boswell, of the Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes swore in four new Supreme Court Justices.

On Sept. 29, 2010 at the Native American Church (NAC) building in Concho, Okla. Daniel G. Webber, Jennifer McBee, John G. Ghostbear and Mary Daniel took an oath to serve as the Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes' Supreme Court Justices.

The justices were given a copy of the Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes' Constitution in the form of a navy blue hard covered binder with shiny gold engraved lettering and the tribes' logo on the front cover.

"I am honored and appreciate you accommodating my schedule today for this swearing in," Daniel said.

Webber and McBee humbly accepted their position before Boswell.

Boswell swore in Ghostbear and Daniel via a phone conference call.

By Rosemary Stephens, Editor-in-Chief

The Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes' annual Tribal Council meeting was held on Saturday, Oct. 2, 2010 at the Concho Community Center in Concho, Okla.

A total of ten resolutions were on the original agenda published in the Sept. 15, 2010 issue of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal Newspaper. There were, 1. Terms and Conditions of Employment for the Tribal Council Coordinator, 2. Modification Gaming Revenue Allocation Plan, 3. Resolution approving the 2010 Budget and Appropriations Act., 4. Resolutions Authorizing the Repeal of the Previous Resolution concerning the Term of the Tribal Council Coordinator and the selection of the new Tribal Council Coordinator, 5. Resolution Establishing the Tribes Policy of Transparency for all Tribal Revenues and Expenditures, 6. Resolution authorizing a contract for a Special Prosecutor, 7. Policy on Special Tribal Council Meetings, 8. Policy setting the Salaries of all Elected Officials of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes, 9. Constitutional Amendment to Article VIII-Judicial Branch, Section 2 and Section 4(D), 10. Constitutional Amendment to Article V, Section 5(A) Office of the Tribal Council.

"The agenda for this meeting contains nine resolutions with one of them being stricken, policy setting the salaries of all elected officials of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes due to a court order pending," Rachel Lynn, former tribal council coordinator, said.

After establishing the required 75-member quorum, nominations for meeting chairperson were accepted. Louella Oldbear, seconded by Janice Boswell, nominated Melvin Whitebird. Imogene Herndon, seconded by Casper Avans, nominated Albert Old Crow. Whitebird became chairperson receiving 107 votes. Old Crow received 48 with 8 not voting.

Following the selection of the chairperson, nominations for secretary were accepted. Roberta Hamilton was the only candidate nominated and became secretary.

"We are going to go by the published agenda that was in the Tribal Tribune as I see no reason to remove the stricken item, so I am putting it back on the agenda," Whitebird, chairman said.

The meeting continued with the original ten resolutions published Sept. 15, 2010 in the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal Tribune.

A motion was made by Ida Hoffman to disapprove item no. 2, Modification Gaming Revenue Allocation Plan (GRAP) due to programs being left off of the GRAP. Vera Franklin seconded the motion. The resolution was disapproved with a vote of 116 for and four against.

"Very important programs were left off of this GRAP such as education, health and our R.E.Sp.E.C.T. program," Hoffman said.

Resolution item no. 3, Approving the 2010 Budget and Appropriations Act was motioned for disapproval by Ida Hoffman, seconded by Janice Boswell. The resolution was disapproved with a vote of 92 for, 0 against and 1 abstaining.

"We cannot vote on a budget without the budget being put in front of us to see where the money is going," Hoffman said. "It is very important that all of our tribal members get a copy of the budget so they know what they are voting for."

Indian center gets $6M from governor’s office

By Julie Bisbee, The Oklahoman

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) The infusion of $6 million in federal stimulus dollars is keeping construction going at the American Indian Cultural Center and Museum.

Gov. Brad Henry’s office gave the Native American Cultural and Education Authority the money from the governor’s discretionary fund. The money will allow construction on the $177.5 million project to continue through the next legislative session.

This past summer, officials worried the project would run out of money and sit idle after lawmakers failed to hear a bill to allow the museum to sell revenue bonds to pay for construction.

Officials with the museum are hoping lawmakers will authorize a $43 million bond issue that will keep construction going on the museum through completion in 2015, said Gena Timberman, executive director of the Native American Cultural and Education Authority. The bond dollars would be matched with $45 million in private funds.

The bonds would be issued over a two-year period and would not be sold until private matching dollars have been secured, Timberman said.

The authority will ask the Legislature to hear the bill again when lawmakers return to the Capitol in February. Until then, federal stimulus dollars will keep work going on the 125,000-square-foot building.

“What we have is a temporary Band-Aid,” Timberman told The Oklahoman. “We’re applying that to the project, and it will take us into the spring.”

The stimulus money the cultural center received was meant to pay for a settlement to resolve a dispute over classes taught in Tulsa. A group of Langston University alumni filed a lawsuit in the 1980s after several universities were allowed to teach similar courses that Langston taught in Tulsa. A 1978 agreement between the state, the U.S. Health Department, Education Department and Welfare’s Office of Civil Rights allowed Oklahoma’s historically black college to offer elementary education courses in Tulsa.

About $14 million had been set aside in the governor’s fund and the $6 million was given to the cultural center when it appeared the dispute was not going to be quickly resolved, said Paul Sund, spokesman for Henry. Sund said settlement talks continue.

The museum that will highlight American Indian culture from Oklahoma and across the country has received $66.3 million in state bond issues. Federal grants for the project total up to $14.5 million, including stimulus dollars, Timberman said.

Private donors, which include tribes throughout Oklahoma, have contributed $4.2 million. Donations from tribes are expected to increase if lawmakers approve the bond issue proposal.

“The tribes plan to be a part of this,” Timberman said. “But this is a state asset. This is not just about tribal history, this is about Oklahoma’s history and our present day identity.”

At the construction site, the gallery space is nearly complete. The building stretches across the site and flows into a large promontory mound the large hill that can be seen from Interstate 35. Workers put the finishing touches on a native stone entry where 100,000 stones were laid.

The white steel support beams of the Hall of the People are in place and cast a shadow across the construction site.

Creation of a center to highlight Oklahoma’s American Indian heritage has been in the works for more than a decade. The Native American Cultural and Educational Authority was created in 1994 to design, establish and sell bonds to build the facility. It’s on land donated by Oklahoma City.

The museum complex, which is expected to include lodging and art galleries, will be complete by 2015 if lawmakers approve the bond issue next session, Timberman said. The development, off Eastern Avenue and Interstate 40, is expected to bring in nearly $7.5 million in state tax revenue a year, Timberman said.

Tribes become authorized builders

By Rosemary Stephens, Editor-in-Chief

The Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes' Economic Development program is accepted as an authorized builder for Rigid Building Systems, LTD. In a letter dated Sept. 13, 2010 addressed to Chester Whiteman, economic development director, states, in part, "Congratulations on your acceptance as an Authorized Builder for Rigid Building Systems, LTD. You have joined the fastest growing manufacturer in the industry and a nationwide organization of Builders that are the best in the Industry and the most respected Builders in their community..." Rigid Building Systems is based out of Houston, Texas with facilities in Englewood, Colo. and Gadsden, AL. According to the Rigid Builders Website, two engineers decided to pursue the American dream. Having risen to the top of their professions in their chosen industry, Fred Campana and Alex Ghodsi took the plunge and invested the $5 dollars necessary to start an Engineering Consulting firm, Rigid Structures. This $5 dollars was the only money privately invested in the company. In 1993 with the investment capital beginning to accumulate from the consulting business, the owners expanded the business with the formation of Rigid Building Systems. On June 12, 1995, five years after starting the consulting business, Rigid opened the doors to it's brand new manufacturing plant in Houston, Texas. For more information call (405) 422-7459.

A message from the Emergency Management program director

By Richard Miller, Director, EMS

The Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes’ Emergency Management Service (EMS) program is working very hard to better serve Tribal Members, Native Americans and all others in our nine county Tribal area. Adequate funding has been a constant issue for the EMS program.

From the year 2005 to present 2010 I (Richard Miller, RN/Critical Care Paramedic) have been working as the EMS director. This program has been under funded for many years. The Tribal EMS program receives half the amount of Federal I.H.S. grant funds that the Diabetes Wellness, Substance Abuse and CHR programs receive. We have searched and researched for resources and ways to gain additional funding. From the year 2005 to present we have been able to increase our income from MediCare, MediCaid and private insurances through some creative changes we have made to our billing and transport services. However, even with the substantial increase in income from our insurance billing the EMS program still struggles to attain enough funding to just remain operational with one EMS crew 24 hours a day everyday of the year. In the past five years I have found resources for some of our EMS equipment and supplies which have not cost our program.

significantly cut due to their budget being severely cut and the funds the Tribal Tax Commission had planned to allocate to our EMS program were cut due to Tribal governmental issues (no approved 2009 budget).

This year we were forced to trim our budget more, the Tribal Health Board has not been able to allocate any funds to our program and we have not been able to secure any assistance from the Tribal Tax Commission or any other Tribal resource. We are still faithfully working to improve our services and our abilities to serve the people in the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal area.

Our EMS Services are licensed for “Advanced Pre-Hospital” care and transport as well as “Specialty Care” and transport. We provide pre-hospital emergency care with advanced level trained medics and Critical Care transport for Western Oklahoma.

Emergency information:

If you need an ambulance for emergency needs, we want to make sure your emergency needs are met quickly and because we are stationed in Clinton and currently funded to staff just one crew 24 hours a day seven days a week, please call 911 or your local emergency numbers for emergency needs. You can request our EMS to respond however, because some areas are distant to our facility and/or we may already be on a patient/client transport please call 911 or your local emergency numbers for your emergency needs. We will still respond to your location when we are available and called to transport but we want to make sure your emergency needs are met immediately.

Non-Emergency or Business Information:

To arrange a non-emergency transport or just need to talk to our business or administrative office staff our business office hours are Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Our staff carry a cell phone at all times however, they may not be able to answer due to being on a patient/client transport or because the cell phone service does not provide clear signal throughout our EMS service area. Please leave a message for your non-emergency ambulance needs and we will call you back as soon as we are able.

Administrative office and ambulance station phone number is (580) 323-7087. Our EMS ambulance one cell phone is (580) 445-6270 and the EMS director cell phone (580) 445-6280.

Some of those items are;

From the TransAM program from 2005 to 2010 we acquired approximately $100,000 dollars worth of: 5 Ambulances (only cost is mechanical service, decaling and equipping), Spinal immobilization devices, portable suction units and some other medical supplies

From grants we found and completed ourselves – 2005 we acquired a grant for $80,000 dollars worth of EMS medical supplies (IV fluids, IV drip sets, bandages and various other medical equipment). 2010 we acquired a grant for $160,000 worth of EMS critical care equipment and supplies (highly specialized equipment and supplies, new up to date IV pumps, training equipment, critical care ventilators, patient airway devices and cardiac monitor/defibrillators).

It should be noted that all of the above grants were for purchase of equipment and supplies and we were not allowed to use those grant funds for any other purposes such as ambulance maintenance, payroll, etc.

We have also managed to get some funding assistance from the Tribal Health Board and Tribal Tax Commission in the years 2006, 2007 and 2008. In 2009 the funding assistance from the Tribal Health Board was

The meeting reconvened at 1:30 p.m. A motion was made to set a new meeting date of Nov. 13, 2010 at the Concho Community Center to address the remaining resolutions. The motion passed with a vote of 117 for, 12 against and three abstaining.

Establishing a Medical Home

At some point in our lives we are all patients. Choosing a primary provider to help you manage your health care is one step closer to good health and patient satisfaction.

Choosing a primary provider is important because when you see several different providers without having one primary provider manage your care, you may not receive the kind of quality health care you want and deserve. It's important to build a trusting relationship with one provider who will get to know you and better manage all of your health care needs, including preventative care, as well as managing any sudden or long term care conditions.

Choosing a primary provider:

Improves communication and understanding between the provider and the patient.

Improves quality of care and patient satisfaction.

Indian Casinos - NY threatens to end Senecas' casino compact

By Carolyn Thompson, Associated Press Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) Gov. David Paterson's administration threatened Wednesday to end a compact that allows the Seneca Indian Nation to operate three casinos because the tribe is withholding payments to the state.

In a letter to Seneca President Barry Snyder Sr., Paterson's chief legal counsel, Peter Kiernan, said the western New York tribe owes $105.5 million from 2009 and $109 million for 2010.

The letter requests a meeting within 14 days to negotiate a solution.

"Otherwise," the letter said, "... the state will commence arbitration and seek a finding of material breach."

Snyder responded that it is the state that has violated the 2002 gambling agreement for the past two years by allowing a video game called "Moxie Mania" at upstate New York bars and introducing slot machines at race-tracks.

"In January 2010, the Seneca Nation advised the governor's office that the operation of certain gaming devices within western New York violated the nation's right of exclusivity under the compact and thus jeopardized the state's ability to receive the very substantial 'state contribution' payments," the nation said in a press release.

Whether you use an Indian Health Service provider or if you go to an outside provider, it is very important to try to see the same provider each time you receive health care, and to try to get your health care and especially your medicines at one facility. This is called your Medical Home. The Clinton Service Unit wants to be your Medical Home. At the Clinton Indian Health Center we are currently assigning primary Indian Health providers to patients who are coming here for their primary care and making every attempt to help you see the same provider each time you come to the clinic. If we do not ask you where you get your primary care, please tell us at registration. We expect to start this same service at the El Reno clinic in the very near future.

Snyder said the state also has been overcharging the tribe for state police services.

"I have no idea why the state violated our compact and no idea why it took the governor's office nine months to agree to discuss the state's breach of the compact terms," Snyder said Wednesday. "We certainly look forward to hearing the explanation of why they violated our compact."

The gambling agreement requires the tribe to share up to 25 percent of slot machine revenues from its casinos in Niagara Falls, Salamanca and Buffalo. But tribal leaders said the compact allows the nation to withhold all payments to the state upon a breach of exclusivity.

Nutrition Tips ANYONE Can Follow

Anyone can go through the supermarket line and choose from a number of magazines claiming to house the best tips for eating healthy. Unfortunately, not everyone is able to obtain the "health food store" types of food described in these articles. The good news is that there a plenty of tips that literally anyone can follow with the foods they already eat.

1. Keep Serving Dishes OFF of the Table: Scientific research suggests that it is better to be served an individual plate of food instead of being served from "family style" dishes on the table in front of you. The same research has shown that people are less likely to over eat by doing so, and consume about 30% less calories.

2. Don't Make A Happy Plate: Everyone remembers the praise they received as youngsters from mom and dad when they finished everything on their plate. However, in today's society of supersized portions, more dietitians are encouraging their patients to leave a quarter of every item on their plates at the end of the meal. This tip allows you to eat your favorite foods while cutting back on portions.

3. Order A Kiddie Meal: In today's fast-paced lifestyle, it is virtually impossible to completely avoid fast food restaurants. When you find yourself in this situation, go ahead and order your favorite fast-food meal – just order the kid's size version. By doing this you are likely to cut down on calories, fat, and sodium.

4. Eat Slowly: It takes your brain about 20 minutes to realize that your stomach is full. If you are consuming a huge meal in less than 20 minutes, chances are you are leaving the dinner table feeling stuffed. To make yourself slow down at meals, implement habits like chewing each bite 30 times, putting your fork down after each bite or taking sips of water in between each bite.

5. Pre-plan Your Snacks: Set aside pre-portioned snacks at the beginning of each day. By designating the day's snack options you will likely decrease the amount of time you spend in front of the fridge or pantry searching for something to eat. It will also allow for more healthful food choices and will help cut down on the amount of calories you consume each day.

Practicing any or all of these simple ideas can help get anyone on track toward healthier food decisions. Just remember to take it slow, plan ahead and always stay positive!

Oklahoma senator halts Indian settlement in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oklahoma Sen. Tom Coburn has held up approval of a bill that would pay off settlements with American Indians and black farmers.

The bill was thought likely to be approved in the Senate on Wednesday before Congress began a pre-election adjournment.

But Coburn held up the bill that would provide $3.4 billion to settle claims that the Interior Department mismanaged Indian trust funds. The bill also includes $1.2 billion to remedy discrimination claims against the Agriculture Department by black farmers.

An aide to Coburn says the senator is dissatisfied with the way the bill would be paid for.

CATC

By Henrietta Mann, President
Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal College

It is customary among Cheyennes that the keepers of their holy objects and ceremonial people do things slowly, carefully, methodically and meticulously. They were to be deliberately unhurried, which they believed was a way of slowing down time so that each person could enjoy every moment of life. Sweet Medicine warned the people that those strangers who were coming to live with them would always be in a hurry.

As it is, all one has to do is look around and recognize that contemporary life is hurried and almost frenzied, and time appears to be slipping hurriedly by.

For example, just look where we have been this summer. The tribal ceremonies, both here in the south and in the north, were observed in July. Then there was the Oklahoma Indian Nations powwow in August, followed in September by the Colony Labor Day powwow and the third annual commencement exercises of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal College. Just this last weekend many enjoyed the Veterans' powwow in Canton, Okla. Then on October 2, 2010, in accordance with the Tribal Constitution, the Tribes assembled for their annual general Tribal Council. All are major events in the life of the people; yet, one can ask the question, where has time gone? It assuredly flows on. The seasons are changing and the air is cool as it blows across our beloved land, and we know that the North Woman is coming back with her assistant Winter Man.

The peoples' cultural views of the world are old, and it must be remembered that they have sustained the Tsistsistas nah Hinónóéi since the beginning of time. The ancestors must be so proud to see that their languages are still being spoken, even though there is the stark reality that they are at risk. It must make them joyful to see that the Sun Dance, the Lodge of New Life, is put up with its usual care and that the current generation, too, makes the necessary sacrifices for the people. The ancestors also must take comfort in knowing their wonderful and strong value systems are still in place, especially generosity that is evident anytime during a dance or powwow. Cheyenne's and Arapahos are a generous people.

What is even more important to acknowledge is that the Tribes have a small bison (buffalo) herd, just as they have one of four Tribal Colleges in the State of Oklahoma.

This small college and its higher education opportunities are essentially the Tribes new buffalo. Just as the people relied upon the buffalo for things necessary for life, education has stepped into that critical role. In this context the people still walk the Buffalo Road.

It provides the heretofore-unforgotten history told through Cheyenne and Arapaho eyes. It honors the cultural knowledge and ways of the people and such knowledge serves as the foundation for the courses that lead to four associate degree options. Remember that this is the only place in the entire world where these languages and cultures are taught. The Tribal College is an exercise in tribal sovereignty and is a safe place in which to learn, not just about what it is to be a tribal person, but to learn the skills and knowledge that represent the keys to developing quality lives. The Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal College is a gift from the people to its youth, not just those today, but those who are yet coming to live on this earth. What a wonderful legacy.

TRIBAL COUNCIL SECRETARY

Tribal Council Coordinator

Candidates for Tribal Council Coordinator- Ida Hoffman (withdrawn), Rachel Lynn, Lisa Martin, Malaina Tall Bear, Ramona Tall Bear, Melvin Whitebird (withdrawn) and Mary Youngbull.

Rachel Lynn

Rachel Lynn

First, I would like to thank you for allowing me to serve you as the Tribal Council Coordinator. The past four years have been enlightening and sometimes chaotic, but it has been an honor to serve my people as your first Coordinator.

I, Rachel Lynn, respectfully request your assistance to renew my term for the Office of Tribal Council. My educational background consists of a Bachelor’s in Health Science with a minor in Chemistry from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. I’ve attended the following trainings to increase my knowledge of Tribal, federal and state laws, regulations, grants, and contracts the Tribe sustains or attain: Robert’s Rules of Order, Essential of Native American Law, Advance Indian Law, OMB Circular Training and license as a Notary Public.

As your elected Tribal Council Coordinator for 2006 through 2010, I have represented the Tribal Council with professionalism and made decisions with an ethical and moral conscience. For the past four years, I have upheld all duties and responsibilities bestowed by the Council and Constitution. Additionally, I have assisted in the development and implementation of grants, policies, procedures and the 2007-2009 Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal Budgets. To safeguard the Council’s Constitutional rights, I have had to initiate and defend numerous court actions prose without expending one penny on legal attorneys.

With your assistance and the renewal of my term, the Tribal Council can sustain its Constitutional authority with respect and dignity. I’ve always held the Council has the ultimate powers to progress the Tribe and move forward in a positive manner. Vote yes, to re-elect me as the Coordinator, and assist me with restoring organization and peacefulness to our dissipated government.

Malaina Tall Bear

Malaina Tallbear

Greetings! My name is Malaina Tall Bear. I am running for Tribal Council Coordinator and I would like for everyone to know a little about myself. I am the daughter of Deforest “Mock” Tall Bear and Debra White. I am the granddaughter of the late Margaret and George White and Floyd and Rose Greany-Tall Bear. The great-grand daughter of the late John and Lula Curtis Greany. I was born and raised in El Reno, Okla. where I graduated high school in 1996. I also completed two years of commercial and graphic arts from Canadian Valley Vo-Tech (where I took the Statesmen Award in Club Business Procedure) the same year. I am currently attending the University of Phoenix where

I am working on my Bachelor’s Degree in Business Administration. I am a mother of two very energetic children, Elijah, 8 and Lylah, 5 and have been with my companion, Cody Zimmer, for five years. Besides working and spending time with my children and family, I have been on the Darlington Johnson O’Malley Parent Committee for five years and active in the El Reno Community and now the Cheyenne 2 District. I have been employed with the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes for almost five plus years. I have worked in the former business manager’s office which became the Department of Administration from October 2005 until Jan. 4, 2010. Last year I decided to run for the Cheyenne District 2 Legislator because I wanted to assist my people. Unfortunately I did not make it, but I do support the winner of the election, Clifton Ellis.

On Jan. 4, 2010, I transferred to the Cheyenne District 2 Legislative office where I am currently the administrative assistant. I like working for my people and assisting the Legislature in making positive changes for our people.

While working for the business manager, Dept. of Administration, and the Cheyenne District 2 Office I also assisted with the Tribal Council meetings. Before the new Constitution was adopted in April 2006 one of my job duties was to plan, schedule, and assist in preparing the resolutions and packets for the Tribal Council meetings and Business Committee meetings. After the Constitution was adopted I assisted the Tribal Council Coordinator and her assistant in the Tribal Council meetings, which I currently do today.

I believe in being fair and unbiased. I would really like our Tribes to move forward and stop the feuding. I believe I can make a difference if I was to be voted in as Tribal Council Coordinator. I will not let my people down.

I think someone who is Tribal Council Coordinator should be familiar with the coming and goings of the Tribal Council branch, and truly be there for ALL Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal members. I believe I am that person! So on Nov. 13, 2010, at the Tribal Council meeting, I am asking for everyone to vote for me, Malaina Tall Bear.

If any tribal member has any questions you may contact me at (405) 556-0748 or you may email me at malaina_sue@yahoo.com.

Lisa Martin

Lisa Martin

My name is Lisa Martin and I am pursuing the position of Tribal Council Coordinator for the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma.

I am an enrolled member of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes. My parents are Betty Martin and Michael Martin of El Reno, Okla. I am also the granddaughter of the late Ella Horn and great-granddaughter of Mabel Medicinebird Horn and Jesse Horn, as well as a descendant of POW Chief Killer.

I grew up in El Reno, Okla. and graduated in 2000 from El Reno High School. I attended the University of Central Oklahoma in Edmond, Okla. and received a Bachelor’s Degree in Criminal Justice in 2004.

As Tribal Council Coordinator, I will adhere to the requirements of the Constitution. It will be my duty to uphold interests of the Tribal Council and with my integrity I will remain unbiased and treat all Tribal members with respect and fairness.

Our Cheyenne and Arapaho people must continue to come together to enrich the lives of our youth and to continue to respect and learn from our elders. I will be available to all Tribal members and will serve the Cheyenne and Arapaho people to the very best of my ability.

Ramona Tall Bear

Ramona Tall Bear

Ramona Tall Bear is the daughter of Bill Tall Bear and the late Lucille Tall Bear of the Deer Creek community between Weatherford and Thomas, Okla.

She graduated from Thomas High School in 1980, had three children while attending college and now has six grandchildren. She attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University and received an Associate of Science degree from Oklahoma State University in Oklahoma City in 1988, majoring in Computer Programming Technology. She attended the University of Central Oklahoma in Edmond where she completed her Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting in December 1990.

Ramona worked with a public accounting firm in Oklahoma City before being hired as an accountant with the Cheyenne and Arapaho Business Development Corporation. She worked with them until being hired by the Business Committee in January 1992. She kept this position until February 1993 when she resigned and took an accounting position in the eastern half of the state, working with the Kickapoo Tribe, Seminole Nation, Seminole Nation Housing Authority, Absentee Shawnee Tribe and the Alabama-Quasarte Tribal Town. She has good references from the leaders of these Tribes. She also worked with corporations, Fleming Foods, Clements Foods and Nordam Group. When she returned to the Tribes, the Gaming Revenue Allocation Plan was just getting implemented and she worked in the finance office working with the elder care program in not only preparing checks but preparing a report of the amounts received by each Tribal member on a weekly basis. When the Constitution changed in 2006 Ramona ran for Governor with Teresa Murray. They won the primary and challenged Darrell Flyingman and Harvey Monetatchi in the final. When the votes were counted on June 7, 2006 she was defeated by 17 votes.

Ramona worked for Economic Development from November 2006 until May 2007 when she began working with the Legislature as the Legislative Budget Analyst, responsible for assisting the Legislature with their constitutional responsibility to enact a Tribal budget on an annual and semi-annual basis.

Many Tribal members know her as being polite, respectful and always encouraging Tribal members to work to achieve their visions. She will be able to help Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribal members voice their concerns with the government as the Tribal Council Coordinator.

Mary Youngbull

Mary Youngbull

My name is Mary Youngbull, I grew up around the Hammon-Elk City area. I have five children, 11 grandchildren and son-in-laws who are my eternal family.

I graduated from Ft. Sill Indian school, attended Brigham Young University and S.W.O.S.U. with 91 hours towards an associate’s degree. I further believe that a degree doesn’t equip you with wisdom or integrity, that’s something that comes with character.

I worked for Indian Health services and other health facilities as a medical records and insurance billing clerk.

I was taught by my grandparents, Roy and Margaret Horse Roads-Hamilton and my parents to respect and care for the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes. I heard their daily prayers and watched their actions as they cared for us. I believe that under the Constitution, it states, the Tribal Council can set policies for the tribes and vote on our annual budget which includes all revenue. The Tribal Council is a separate branch of government and should be independent. All branches of government should correspond with one another for the good of the people. No one branch of government should be more important than the other. Our voices and vote should be heard and our laws should be enforced and respected by all branches of government.

I have visited in some elders homes and talked with tribal members, I have heard their concerns and I believe our gaming money should reach the needs of every tribal member.

As Tribal Council Coordinator, I will work for the people and their best interest in this present government. The voice of the people will be heard and their vote will be counted to make a better government for future generations.
